

Lucton Bulletin

October 15th
2021

It has been one of those wonderful weeks where there have been so many highlights that I don't know how I'm going to fit them all into this column.

We have had sporting success, with our U16 girls doing tremendously well to win the Herefordshire County Netball Tournament; brilliant music and drama events, with the Choral Evensong on Tuesday and an overnight theatre trip to London late last week; and exciting events still to come as I write this, like our Prep Harvest Assembly. Well done to all for getting involved!

I am also pleased that our Year 6 and 'New' Parents' Evening went well on Monday, particularly given the bold decision to scrap appointment slots and invite students. Thankfully, the event ran smoothly, and it was lovely to hear about how well our new students are settling in. It's also been really nice to meet some even newer students this week, who we look forward to joining us after half-term.

More exciting news to come, but that's enough for now – I hope that you have a good weekend.

Boarding News

As we roll towards half term, Saturday saw a double whammy of trips, with the students from Croft House going to Worcester to watch the new 007 film, 'No Time To Die'.

Meanwhile, the students from School Cottage stayed at school to take part in a clay craft masterclass with our very own Mrs Wolstenholme. They created some fantastic works of art, which will be painted and decorated in time for giving as Christmas gifts!

'Friends Friday' continues to be popular with day students wanting to experience boarding life. This week's trip has been booked out, as have a number of weekends next half term, so please do contact me early if your son or daughter wants to board so I can confirm if we still have room!

Please contact me at boardinghouse@luctonschool.org and I will respond asap.
